NEW STEAMSHIP MAURETANIA SAILS ON MAIDEN TRIP LIVERPOOL TO NEW YORK.

Ardmoreite Special.

New York, Nov. 16.—The new quadruple screw steamship, Mauretania sails on her maiden trip from Liverpool for New York today. Simultaneously her sister ship, the famous Lusitania, which is a few hundred tons less, started from this port for Liverpool. Tomorrow morning the Mauretania will begin her run from the start of the ocean race course off Dumb's Rock, near Queenstown.

It is said to be the intention of the line to have the Mauretania, which made a better showing on her trial trip than the Lusitania, beat the time of the latter record-breaking vessel on the trip they begin together. The trial run of the Mauretania was from Carrowell Point to Lands End, a distance of 300 miles, and the ship maintained a speed of 27 1/2 knots. The Mauretania has 300 tons more registered tonnage than the Lusitania and is five feet longer, making it the largest vessel in existence. There has also been spent upon her interior decorations and tapestries $200,000 more than upon those of the Lusitania.

The Mauretania was built by Swan, Hunter & Wigham Richardson, at their shipyards on the Tyne, and the builders believe that she will eclipse the Lusitania in speed. She is 790 feet long, 88 feet beam, 60 feet moulded depth, 32,500 tons gross, 45,000 tons displacement, 37 feet 6 inches load draught, with funnels 155 feet high. The diameter of the funnels is 24 feet and the height of mast 216 feet.

There are many reasons for believing that the new Mauretania, on her initial trip will surpass even the great Lusitania. The trial trips of the two vessels were made under similar conditions, and the Mauretania eclipsed her sister ship in speed by an average of half a knot. These preliminary trials were carried out with the hull of the Mauretania in a very dirty condition, and with part of the launching ways still adhering. Now that she has been put in perfect condition in the dry dock at Liverpool, it appears perfectly safe that she will maintain a mean speed of 26 1/2 knots in the trip across the Atlantic. This means that the fortunate traveler who has secured passage on the first trip of the new ocean giant will be whisked through the seas at a speed of thirty miles an hour.

Founder of "Little Church."

Ardmoreite Special.

New York, Nov. 16.—Special services will be held tomorrow in the Church of the Transfiguration, known throughout the Christian world as the "Little Church Around the Corner," when a mortuary chapel will be dedicated in commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the death of the congregation's founder, the Rev. Dr. George Hendrie Houghton. Dr. Houghton died November 17, 1897, after 49 years of devoted labor in the church which he called into being. Next Wednesday will be the tenth anniversary of the installation of the present rector, Dr. George Clarke Houghton, who succeeded on November 20, 1897, to the spiritual leadership of the church which for so long has been known as America's Gretna Green.

But, be it known, the Little Church Around the Corner is no longer at Gretna Green. Fair maidens who elope from the parental roof with loving swains need not apply to Dr. Houghton for his assistance in tying the matrimonial knot. They will be doomed to disappointment. The flat has gone forth, and hereafter the sanctuary over which Dr. Houghton presides will not be the scene of the performance of runaway or other questionable marriages. Henceforth proper publicity must attend all marriages performed by the rector of the Little Church, and to this end Dr. Houghton insists that the banns be published in the old fashioned way. Dr. Houghton will also refuse, in the future, to marry persons of the Catholic faith, since he believes they should seek clergy-men of their own church.

Heart Weighed Seven Pounds.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 16.—Carrying out the dying request of her husband, Mrs. George Feindell yesterday gazed upon the heart of her dead husband after it had been taken from the body. The heart taken from the body of George Feindell, who had died Monday at Biloxi, Miss., had grown to an abnormal size, weighing seven pounds after being taken from the body. In the opinion of prominent physicians of the city the heart was one of the largest ever known. The average of the human heart is one and one-half pounds.

The apparently strange request of the dead man was made as he believed he would die of heart trouble and that there was some trouble with it. He lived in the West End.

TAYLOR TO TESTIFY

KENTUCKY'S EX-GOVERNOR WILL TESTIFY IN BEHALF OF CALEB POWERS.

Georgetown, Ky., Nov. 16.—Important developments brought out in the trial of Caleb Powers today were that former Governor Taylor and former Secretary of State Finley will be brought back to testify for Powers and the jury will be drawn from Harrison county, which county is strongly democratic.

Attorney S. M. Wilson made an impassioned appeal for an impartial jury which took the court and spectators by storm. Judge Morris E. Lowenthal responded:

"I am here to give this defendant a fair and impartial trial and that I propose to do. No man is impartially tried by a partial jury. An impartial trial calls for an impartial jury and I admonish the sheriff and his deputies to be careful in their selection of venire men and to show no discrimination."

TASTING THE CZAR'S DINNERS.

Extraordinary Precautions to Prevent Tampering With Ruler's Food.

The kitchens in which the food of the great white czar is prepared are extraordinary for the elaborate precautions taken to prevent any of his household tampering with his food. The kitchens themselves present the appearance of a strong room of a modern bank, guarded by a regiment of soldiers, rather than the culinary department of a royal palace.

Even the chef—M. Eugene Krantz—who presides over the imperial kitchen, enjoys a salary of $20,000 a year and social privileges equal to those of a general of the Russian army, is not to be envied in his peculiar position.

As soon as dinner or luncheon is ready to be placed on the emperor's table a very elaborate system of tasting has to be gone through and when the czar is in residence at Peterhof, not only M. Krantz himself, but also his under chefs and certain high officials of the imperial army are called in to taste every dish that goes to the emperor's table, after which experiment reasonable time is permitted to elapse to see whether or not the tasters are poisoned. This curious survival of other days comes from the time of Ivan the Terrible.

When the meals prepared for his majesty are served, M. Krantz himself begins to taste; and after the strange poisoning interval has elapsed the dishes are placed in an electric elevator with a closed shaft, into which the military officers are locked, and up goes the lift to the imperial dining room. Here again the major on duty samples the dishes under the eyes of the czar, after which the family sit down to dinner.

No dish served on the czar's table is permitted access to the dining room save through the elevator shaft. Thus the food can in no way be tampered with save by the cooks themselves and the military officials on duty. It has been said by an authority that the imperial family of Russia in bygone times sat down to their meals in a dining room constructed of cast iron and steel, for all the world like a bank vault. This, however, is not the case now, but elaborate precautions still have to be made to prevent the enemies of the czar carrying out their plots against his life.—Tit-Bits, London.

FEDERAL PRISONER PUZZLE

WHOLESALE TRANSFER OF PRISONERS DISCUSSED—HELD UP FOR PRESENT.

Guthrie, Okla., Nov. 16.—The wholesale transfer of federal prisoners now held in Indian Territory jails to counties of the new state, which has generally been supposed to be in order as soon as statehood was proclaimed, may not be consummated at all. At least, not for the present.

The judges, clerks, and marshals of both federal districts recently named by President Roosevelt were in conference here today with two inspectors from the department of justice with reference to the necessary court changes and tonight it was announced the disposition of prisoners would be held up for the present. The records, however, are immediately transferred to the counties involved as per terms of the enabling act.

The situation is said to rest upon that feature of the federal law which provides that prosecutions for offenses which had been committed in a state would have been cognizable in the federal courts therein, should be transferred to the federal courts. It is barely possible that a test will be made of one case upon which to rest the entire lot.

WIRELESS PHONES

USED IN BRITISH NAVY—CONVERSATION CAN BE CARRIED ON THIRTY MILES.

London, Nov. 16.—The British admiralty has made arrangements for installing wireless telephones in some of the vessels of the fleet, and the work is being carried out by the Radio Telegraph company. It is claimed that by these wireless telephone conversation can be carried on between two vessels that are thirty miles apart.

The voices heard on these wireless telephones are clear and distinct and telephoning is in many respects easier at sea than on land. The wireless telephone may be of great use to vessels in foggy weather. They can speak to each other at considerable distance and the admiral of the squadron might, from his cabin, talk to every vessel of his fleet.

Preparations are being made for laying down the two new Dreadnoughts which form part of the government's naval policy of the year. It is usually regarded as sufficient if new vessels are laid down within the financial year, but in this case the keels of the new vessels will be in place in the course of November.

Substantial progress will be made with these vessels in the course of this year, and the result will be that before the end of the new financial year Great Britain will be in possession of six Dreadnoughts.

But perhaps the most remarkable ship that the British navy possesses has lately been launched almost without notice. This is the new repairing ship, the Cyclops, now being taken around to Portsmouth from Tyne. This ship is most unique of its kind, and is designed to carry out almost any kind of repairs at sea, save, of course, those that demand dry dock. It is proposed to attach this ship, for the time being, at any rate, to the home fleet, as the channel fleet already has its repair ship Assistance, while a sister vessel may shortly be built for service with the Mediterranean fleet, which, at one time, always had one of these vessels attached to it.

On board the Cyclops is one of the most powerful repairing plants yet invented, and the whole ship is one huge floating workshop, while its shears are powerful enough to lift a small vessel, such as a torpedo destroyer, clear out of the water, if required. The value of such a ship as this to a fleet during war can scarcely be overestimated, since repairs could be carried on almost instantly and without the necessity for the vessel to steam or be towed to the nearest friendly port.

ANNOUNCE TWO-CENT RATE

BEGINNING MONDAY ROCK ISLAND RATES IN NEW YORK STATE WILL BE 2 CENTS.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Nov. 16.—President B. L. Winchell of the Rock Island line, who is on a tour of the new state in company with a party of Rock Island officials, stated tonight that the Rock Island system will observe the 2c fare a mile provision of the state constitution when the latter becomes effective, Saturday, Nov. 16.

All Rock Island agents will be instructed to sell tickets at the rate of 2c a mile instead of the present rate of 3c. The Rock Island will observe the 2c fare clause and tickets will be sold at that price by its agents not later than Monday. Mr. Winchell said: "We will not make any money in selling tickets at such a rate—in fact we won't make expenses. We will appeal to the board of corporation commissioners to restore the former rate of 3c. Our appeal will be filed after the board has been organized and after statehood has become effective. The Rock Island will not finish the improvements which are now being made in Oklahoma. No work whatever will be done on any of the contemplated improvements."

THE HOLY CITY.

Thirty men, red-eyed and disheveled, lined up before a judge of the San Francisco police court. It was the regular morning company of "drunks and disorderlies." Some were old and hardened, others hung their heads in shame. Just as the momentary disorder attending the bringing in of the prisoners quieted down, a strange thing happened. A strong clear voice from below began singing:

"Last night I lay a-sleeping, There came a dream so fair." Last night! It had been for them all nightmare of a drunken stupor. The song was such a contrast to the horrible fact that no one could fail of a sudden shock at the thought the song suggested. "I stood in old Jerusalem, Beside the temple there."

The song went on. The judge had paused. He made a quiet inquiry, a member of an opera company known all over the country, was awaiting trial for forgery. It was he who was singing in his cell.

Meantime the song went on and every man in the line showed emotion. Some dropped on their knees; one boy at the end of the line after a desperate effort at self-control, leaned up against the wall, buried his face in his folded arms and sobbed, "O, mother, mother."

The sobs cut to the very heart the men who heard the song, still wending its way through the court room, bended in the hush. At length one man protested:

"Judge," said he, "have we got to submit to this? We're here to take our punishment, but this—" He began to sob.

It was impossible to proceed with the business of the court, yet the judge gave no order to stop the song. The police sergeant after a suppressed effort to keep the men in line, stepped back and waited with the rest. The song moved on to its climax. "Jerusalem, Jerusalem! Sing, for thee night is o'er! Hosanna in the highest. Hosanna for evermore!"

In an ecstasy of melody the last words rang out and there was silence.

The judge looked into the faces of the men before him. There was not one in whom some better impulse was not stirred. He did not call the cases singly—a kind word of advice and he dismissed them all. No man was fined or sentenced to the workhouse that morning. The song had done more good than punishment could have accomplished. —Youth's Companion.

All honor to that judge. He is a good, big hearted man.

How often, if we could do it, would we save some erring brother with a soft answer, that always turns away wrath. How often would the mother, who has a whipping laid up for the little boy, the boy whom she calls bad, make it all a great deal better if she would tell some pretty story of Jesus and the Cross or sing some song to the little fellow. It might be the turning point in the life of the little fellow.

Of course, no one advocates this to be the true way for every case of bad little boys, but it would be a good thing now and then. Suppose you ask your neighbor to try it some time?

Who Most Need A Gentle Laxative

Most everyone at some time of life needs a laxative, and then it is well to remember to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great herb laxative compound, but those who especially need this remedy, and need it perhaps oftener than others, are children, women and old folks.

Most children suffer from constipation or dyspepsia and if the trouble isn't righted early the child will grow up thin and sickly. Women are prone to constipation because of functional demands, and old people because the muscles of the stomach become weak as age advances. Still, after the age of fifty, few people have regular bowel movement.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is especially adapted to the use of such people, who should never take violent cathartic tablets or powders, griping salts or purgative waters and such things because they are too weak to stand it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild, gentle but promptly effective laxative tonic. It is smooth and oily, good to the taste and never grips. It can be absolutely depended upon, and so certain are results that it is guaranteed to do what is claimed or money will be refunded. It can be obtained of your druggist in 50 cent and $1 bottles, and either size is sufficient to help many members of the family to health.

Thousands of letters have been received from users of this remedy saying that it does what is claimed for it, and many families are never without it in the house. Mrs. Murray of Monticello, Ind., has had it in her house regularly for five years, and as soon as one bottle is used up she gets another. A laxative may be needed at any moment, and when it is needed it is well to have Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at hand. Make up your mind to get a bottle to-day and have it handy in emergencies.

FREE TEST These wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free bottle sent to their home by addressing the company. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease.
